

ABSTRACT OF THE INVENTION

A wireless network troubleshooting tool for monitoring an IEEE 802.11 wireless LAN is connected via an access point to the latter, and programmed for capturing a plurality of frames data packets traveling to and from the LAN, for performing a detailed protocol analysis on the contents of the headers associated with the captured frames, to detect and diagnose failures or defects in the monitored wireless networks, to permit repair.

KW:1220/01/11221008.APP